Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

1. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the bodies of the claims do not recite technology, i.e. computer implementation or any other technology in a non-trivial manner. In re Toma, 197 USPQ 852 (CCPA 1978). Ex parte Bowman 61 USPQ2D 1669.

For a claim to be statutory under 35 USC 101 the following two conditions must be met:

1) The claimed invention must produce a “useful, concrete, tangible result” (In re Alappat, 31USPQ2d 1545, 1558 (Fed. Cir. 1994) and State Street vs. Financial Signature Group Inc., 47 USPQ2d 1596’ 1601-02 (Fed Cir. 1998));

AND

2) The claimed invention must utilize technology in a non-trivial manner (Ex parte Bowman, 61 USPQ2d 1665, 1671 (Bd. Pat. Pat. App. & Inter. 2001)).

As to the technology requirement, note MPEP 2106 IV B 2(b). Also note In re Waldbaum, 173USPQ 430 (CCPA 1972) which teaches “useful arts” is synonymous with “technological arts”. In Musgrave, 167USPQ 280 (CCPA 1970), In re Johnston, 183USPQ 172 (CCPA 1974), and In re Toma, 197USPQ 852 (CCPA 1978), all teach a technological requirement.

In State Street, “in the technological arts” was never an issue. The invention in the body of the claim must recite technology. If the invention in the body of the claim is not tied to technological art, environment, or machine, the claim is not statutory. Ex parte Bowman 61USPQ2d 1665,1671 (BD. Pat. App. & Inter.2001)(Unpublished).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fraser et al.(5995947A) and PR Newswire, Individual Investor Group Agrees to Acquire 19.9% of Online Venture Capital Site, VentureHighway.com, for $3.2 million in Advertising.

Re claims 1-26: Fraser et al. disclose a method and a computer program product for a service provider to facilitate one or more financial transactions between one or more suppliers of capital(Abstract, col. 2, lines 10-55), each supplier having a set of supply criteria, and one or more demanders of capital(col. 7, lines 20-35).

Fraser et al. disclose the invention except each demander having a request for financing. However, in PR Newswire, Individual Investor Group Agrees to Acquire 19.9% of Online Venture Capital Site, VentureHighway.com, for $3.2 million in Advertising, the article discloses a database with internet interaction of funding source seekers who pay a listing fee to be referred to funding sources. It would be obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify the invention of Fraser et al. based on the teachings of PR Newswire. The motivation to combine these references is to enable internet-based funding sourcing.
